Curriculum Associate's New 'New York Ready' Series is Completely Updated to Match the 2011 Tests

NORTH BILLERICA, MA, January 28, 2011—Curriculum Associates, LLC, has introduced an all-new program that fully addresses changes to the 2011 New York State Tests. Available immediately (CurriculumAssociates.com/NYReady), New York Ready is an effective, integrated print and online program that offers targeted instruction and test practice on the New York State Performance Indicators.

The powerful reports generated from the online component, New York i-Ready, drive the effectiveness of the instruction and practice by showing exactly which Performance Indicators students need to improve on while monitoring students' progress. The engaging online experience encourages students to practice, and the real-time feedback empowers them to take charge of their own learning. Reports for teachers and administrators break down student performance and progress by each New York State Performance Indicator.

New York Ready Instruction provides targeted instruction to teach and review key skills that students need to know so they are ready for the more rigorous 2011 tests. With the results from New York i-Ready, teachers and administrators can tailor the instruction specifically to an individual class and/or student. New York Ready Instruction includes lessons for all the tested New York State Performance Indicators and correlations for the Common Core State Standards.

To ensure that students are prepared for test day, New York Ready Practice provides test simulation that mirrors the experience of taking the 2011 New York State Tests. Three print practice tests are provided for each grade level.

"We're told New York Ready is the first product on the market fully aligned to the 2011 New York State Test," said Rob Waldron, president and CEO of Curriculum Associates.

"We're proud that we can help New York educators navigate these challenging testing updates."

For more information and to view an independent study that shows how students improved their scores by as much as 17% in just six weeks using New York Ready, please visit CurriculumAssociates.com/NYReady.
